

the first part. I was unaware of the other proposals you had coming down the line and if they mesh...

SENATOR WILL: One minute.

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...or tend to contradict or whatever, then obviously we should get together and see what makes sense. So that's fine and why don't I sign off and we'll see if we can do what you want to do here for the moment.

SENATOR WILL: Senator Beutler, did I understand that you wanted to withdraw that at this time?

SENATOR BEUTLER: Senator, are there other amendments filed?

SENATOR WILL: No.

SENATOR BEUTLER: I do not wish to withdraw.

SENATOR WILL: In that case, Senator Janssen on the Beutler amendment. Senator Janssen waives. Senator Hilgert. Senator Hilgert waives. Senator Hillman.

SENATOR HILLMAN: Yes, Mr. Speaker, members, either Senator Beutler or Senator Warner had made some comments on the...on Select File, some of the changes and what the intent here is of what we're trying to do, which I wholeheartedly support, the thing that I found in the past when we're looking at the kinds of sensitive issues and bringing people together, the one point that I think could be missing and I'm not sure who's responsibility, it could be the local government's responsibility, but some place along the line you're going to need some type of a facilitator for these groups to sit down together and to be able to do the kinds of problem solving and to determine where it is that they wish to go without a facilitator, someone to lead the discussion, someone to take somewhat control and to keep them on track. I think it'll be very difficult because they will be in some very intimidating situations when they start this discussion. There will be, quote, the big kid on the block and the little one and they will need someone, I feel, as kind of a neutral party, to be able to bring out a full discussion and to look at keeping them on track to where it is they want to wind up. So I would ask perhaps either, Senator Beutler or Senator Warner, do you see the value
